

Cold-blooded killer who has shown no remorse

EYSTNA BLUNNIE: Beaten and left for dead by Tony McLernon

Man who brutally attacked his heavily-pregnant ex-girlfriend in drink-fuelled rage is jailed for life

AS the callous killer of young mum-to-be Eystna Blunnie this week started a life sentence for her murder, the parents of his tragic victim said justice had prevailed.

After a two-week trial it took the jury at Chelmsford Crown Court just two hours to convict Tony McLernon (24) of killing his former girlfriend and causing the death of their unborn child.

Yesterday (Wednesday) he was caged for a minimum of 27 years.

During the trial the jury heard a harrowing account of how he viciously attacked Ms Blunnie in a drink and drug-fuelled frenzy in the early hours of June 27 last year.

He had sent her a text in which he told her to meet him in Howard Way, Harlow, telling her he had a "surprise" for her. But when she turned up he forced her to the ground and repeatedly kicked and stamped on her.

Ms Blunnie was later found in a pool of blood with more than 50 separate head and facial injuries. She died later the same day in Princess Alexandra Hospital. Doctors were unable to save her baby girl, who was due to be born a few days later.

Unemployed McLernon, of North Grove, Harlow, was found guilty of murder and child destruction. He denied both charges.

In a statement released after his conviction, Ms Blunnie's family said: "In June of 2012 our family was shattered by the death of a loving daughter, Eystna, and her unborn child, Rose. The worst part was to find out that their deaths were such a brutal murder.

"However, today justice has prevailed for our daughter and granddaughter with the conviction of their killer."

Thanking the police and legal teams as well as family and friends for their support and those who helped Ms Blunnie after the attack, they added: "We would like now to be left with our family to try and rebuild our lives and remember Eystna and Rose in our hearts and minds."

Detective Chief Inspector Lucy Robinson, the senior investigating officer in the case, said: "Tony McLernon is a dangerous, violent man. He subjected numerous ex-girlfriends to constant fear of being assaulted and Eystna paid the ultimate price during his final violent outburst.

"Throughout the thorough police investigation he has not sought to explain his actions, nor has he admitted his guilt or shown any remorse."

We are pleased the jury saw him for the evil he is

TONY McLernon was told he must serve at least 27 years in jail after being given a life sentence for the murder of his former fiancée Eystna Blunnie and causing the death of their unborn daughter.

A judge at Chelmsford Crown Court set the minimum amount of time in prison before he can be considered for parole.

Mr Justice Adrian Fulford said McLernon "has the undoubted capacity to act violently and dangerously towards others and most particularly young women with whom he has sexual relationships".

He said McLernon's history with Ms Blunnie and his other former girlfriends vividly demonstrated the "troubling way in which he controls, dominates, degrades, bullies and then attacks women".

McLernon showed no sign of emotion as he stood in the dock. He had denied the murder of Ms Blunnie and the offence of child destruction but the judge said the two deaths were inextricably linked and it was, in essence, a double murder.

"This was not a spontaneous offence which was the result of an unthinking moment of anger but instead the defendant had contemplated Eystna's death and the destruction of her child over a long period of time," said the judge.

"Whether Tony McLernon had finally decided to kill Eystna Blunnie before she set out or only formed that intention during the argument which ensued is of secondary importance. The critical feature is that for a significant period the defendant had given serious consideration to ending her life and destroying his child."

"Having met her in the early hours of that morning he did the very thing he had contemplated and threatened."

The court heard psychiatrists had diagnosed McLernon as having an emotionally unstable personality disorder characterised by displays of extreme anger and rage, but he had kept hidden from doctors the extent of his violent behaviour.

As long ago as 2004 when he was 15 and his then girlfriend was 14, he prevented her from seeing her friends over a period of two years. He violently assaulted her and threatened her with knives. He punched her, stamped on her head and held knives against her body and in 2006 she suffered a hairline fracture to her jaw.

In October 2007 another girlfriend was ordered to her knees and told he would stab her if she moved. He held a knife against her stomach.

Mr Justice Fulford said McLernon had made up two fictitious men who he claimed jumped up and down on Ms Blunnie and kicked her to death.

"This was a planned, deliberate, cruel and prolonged attack on someone who had been close to the defendant and who was within days of giving birth to his daughter," he said.

"His history reveals how dangerous he is, particularly as regards those with whom he has a sexual relationship. He has shown not the smallest indication of remorse. Instead he has sought to traduce the name and memory of the deceased."

As he left the court after sentence was passed, Ms Blunnie's uncle Tony said: "After a very long and heartbreaking eight months, we have finally received justice for Eystna and her then soon-to-be born daughter, Rose."

"Eystna was a loving girl with a unique personality and her whole life ahead of her. We know Rose would have been loved, nurtured and given the best in life that's possible."

"We are pleased the jury saw through his lies and saw him as the evil person he truly is."

A drunken thug with a history of violence

TONY McLernon was a heavy drinker whose regular alcohol binges would often result in violence, Chelmsford Crown Court heard.

The 24-year-old - who had drifted in and out of employment ever since leaving St Mark's West Essex Catholic School at the age of 15 - first started drinking with pals as a teenager.

Finding it an expensive habit, he chose to "bulk buy" to get more for his money and would regularly purchase crates of lager and sparkling wine.

By 2012 he was a heavy drinker who would combine Lambrini and cider - "rocket fuel" - at 13 per cent volume. "Alcohol had the effect of making me more aggressive," he told the court.

His relationship with Miss Blunnie, who lived in Pennymead at the time, began after the pair met in town centre pub Wetherspoon's. It continued by phone, email and social networking sites.

In April 2012 she moved into his parents' home at North Grove but it wasn't long before the couple were arguing. She would return to her family's house covered in bruises, which she would insist she had sustained while "playfighting".

But an assault on April 9 2012 when a drunken

McLernon attempted to strangle her was the last straw. She reported him to police before moving back in with her parents, but he told officers she had been "violent" towards him, adding that she had later texted to apologise to him.

The court heard that McLernon's past girlfriends had suffered from similar patterns of violent behaviour fuelled by his drinking.

Kimberley Mitchell, who went out with the defendant from 2004 to 2007, told the court he had once pushed her to the ground and sat on her head.

He was charged with common assault in October 2007 after punching her in Harlow Police Station in full view of the receptionist.

Another ex, Jessica Matthews, told the court she was assaulted by McLernon in the street in 2008. She claimed he had forced her to kneel before him, armed with a 30cm knife.

Positive response to shop staff uniforms

SIR, We're sorry that David Pugh chose to criticise us for kitting out our wonderful staff at the Harlow shop with T-shirts and fleeces (Letters, February 28).

We did this after customer and donor feedback told us that many people struggled to identify staff who could help and assist them because the Harlow shop is so large and so busy.

Staff also have to work outside loading and unloading vans – plus the big store can get very draughty at times. No other shops have been given uniform to wear as they're not needed in smaller shops.

We've had lots of positive feedback in store and on Facebook but recognise there will always be grumbles, too.

I can assure our supporters that we do think very carefully before making any purchases, but the continued success of our Harlow shop as the charity shop of choice for local people was a key consideration.

It's our most successful shop and we wish to keep it that way.

Who can begrudge volunteers a T-shirt?

SIR, I have been a volunteer for St Clare Hospice for over 20 years and have previously worked in both the Harlow and Epping shops.

The volunteers in these shops spend time sorting through (sometimes dirty) clothes and other donated items which can be really messy. Surely no-one can begrudge them a T-shirt to save their own clothes?

St Clare has hundreds of volunteers raising funds without which the hospice could not possibly offer a free service to the community. The operative word here is volunteer.

I am sure everyone knows someone who has benefited from its help, and we might someday need it ourselves.

Name and address supplied

SIR, I agree with David Pugh about the uniform given to staff at the St Clare Hospice shop in Harlow.

Although they are now recognisable, I do not donate for my money to be used on uniforms, but on patients.

I also see that the fleeces and T-shirts are ill-fitting and some of the female staff have opted for the gents option.

I understand the need for uniforms, but if the money has come from the sale of items in the e shop or from fundraising then this is a real shame.

No need to send out a gritting lorry

SIR, On our way home at about 4pm on Saturday we were most surprised to see a gritting lorry. It went along First Avenue, turned into Haydens Road and then along Third Avenue, heading towards Abercrombie Way.

Now, I don't know what weather report Essex County Council had been following or what criteria they use before engaging the gritting fleet, but the temperature on Saturday was 5C degrees and Sunday was quite a pleasant spring-like day, so I don't think there was any need to send out a gritting lorry. It's a pity they can't make better decisions when the weather is really dire. It just seems a total waste of resources and money

Cameron's PR stunt over NHS services

SIR, Conservative councillor Guy Mitchinson has nerve accusing Labour of a PR stunt over the 10p tax rate (Letters, February 28).

If he wants to talk about PR stunts, what about the one when David Cameron stood at the dispatch box before the last election and promised to protect frontline NHS services if he came to power? Frontline services have been decimated under this Tory-led government, not least at our own Princess Alexandra Hospital.

Add to that the vapid PR stunts pulled by George Osbourne in his desperate attempt to obscure the fact that he has not put a foot right since he took office and we have a case of the pot calling the kettle black.

Motorway junction plan is cretinous

SIR, There is only one reason to construct a new junction to the M11 and that is to tear the A414 from the belly of the town, where through traffic snarls up roads it doesn't want to be on.

To suggest a junction via Gilden Way leaves the A414 winding through the town like a tape-worm. The plan is plainly cretinous.

Time to penalise pavement parkers

SIR, As a mother of three young children in Old Harlow I am increasingly annoyed by the amount of parking on pavements around the town.

One of the worst places is the lower end of the High Street where there are clearly 'no loading' signs and yellow lines along the road, yet people are constantly parking half up on the pavement and I am unable to get my pushchair through. There are a lot of people with pushchairs or mobility scooters around the area and this thoughtless, not to mention illegal, parking is forcing us all out into the road.

I hardly ever see any traffic wardens about. Maybe if these people had a fine to pay they

Photo of the week

READER Clare Cracknell snapped this cheeky squirrel in the garden of her home in Woodcroft, Harlow, last August.

"He came down the garden path and sat by the back door," she writes. "Then he put his paws on the glass, stood up and pressed his nose up to the glass to peer in."

"He looked at me and my daughters as if to say 'where's the food' but after a few seconds he gave up and left, just as I was about to feed him."

If you have a photo taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section, we would love to see it.

Email a high resolution copy in JPEG format, along with a description of your photo and details of when and where it was taken, to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please remember to include your name and address and insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

may think twice about where they park in future. There are two reasonably sized car parks with an hour's free parking, so it's just pure laziness.

Also, there is a large puddle that appears after the slightest bit of rain on London Road opposite the footpath to Seeleys. The children walking to school are often soaked by drivers going through it; the council must do something about it.

Rest-a-while group will be greatly missed

SIR, How wonderful is the latest news about the initiative to make the county dementia-friendly (Star, February 21). So why oh why is the only free day support group in Harlow for people with dementia being forced to close at the end of this month?

The Alzheimer Society has successfully run the rest-a-while group for a number of years. This group enables people with dementia the opportunity to meet with others and enjoy social interaction and joining in organised activities giving carers a well deserved rest, knowing that they are in a safe and caring environment.

Thanks for support of cricket club

SIR, I would like to say a huge thank you to ASDA, the public of Harlow and Harlow town cricket club members for the success of our bag-packing to raise funds for the Harlow Town Cricket Academy.

Harlow Town prides itself on providing cricketing opportunities to all members of our community and we established the schools' trophy played for each year by secondary schools in the area.

Despite being in the worst recession in 50 years, the generosity towards us and the amazing comments we received truly inspired us.

We were stunned to realise how much people knew about the club and to receive comments such as "groups like yours are what community spirit is all about" and "we see you as the driving force in the community for cricket in Harlow" will inspire us to keep giving back to the people of Harlow.

We have raised a significant amount that will go directly into providing coaching and facilities for young members through this year and into next winter.

Celebrity judges decide who is top of the crops

HARLOW College hair and beauty students tressed to impress celebrity judges at the college's fifth hairdressing competition on Tuesday.

Over 50 Level 2 and 3 hair students took part in the Oscar-themed competition. Judges included hairdresser to the rich and famous Gary Barker, who is current hair stylist for The X Factor, and award-winning barber MK.

Cheryl Adams (34) was victorious with her "unique and inspired" hair designs.

Competitors were judged on their mood boards, finished hair, complete look and a short interview.

Cheryl, who is taking the Level 2 diploma in women's hairdressing, said: "Having returned to education and hairdressing at the age of 34 after years of being a mum and homemaker, I am both shocked and thrilled that I have won."

"I have always wanted to be a hairdresser, and it just proves that if you have the ambition, anyone can succeed."

Assistant Academy Manager for Hair Karen Thomas said: "The creativity on Tuesday demonstrated the hard work and exceptional talent that Harlow College hair students are capable of."

"Our students' talent has not only astounded us, it has completely blown us away."

"The hair teaching team are all really proud."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Council homes get a makeover

HARLOW Council will begin a £22m programme to upgrade and improve council housing from this April.

The investment is coming from housing rents and additional funding the authority has secured in grants. It forms part of a five-year, £100m investment to raise the standards of council-owned properties.

During the following year the council plans to modernise kitchens, upgrade electrics, change roof coverings, replace windows and doors and install new heating systems and energy efficient boilers.

Growing need for foster carers

ESSEX County Council is holding an information event in Harlow for people wanting to find out more about fostering.

More carers are needed across west Essex for babies, siblings, older children, children with disabilities and children seeking asylum.

Experienced carers and members of the county council's fostering team will be available to explain what is involved in foster care and answer any questions.

The event will be held on Saturday from 10.30am at the Latton Bush Centre.

Rotary cash for dam project

HARLOW Tye Rotary Club raised £2,000 for charity at a race night last month.

The money will go towards the building of a sand dam in Kenya, where locals can walk up to 12 hours to collect water.

The Harlow group club teamed up with its sister club in Ipswich and, with extra funding from the central UK and Ireland organisation and Rotary International, were able to reach the £12,000 goal.

Tattooist fined for breaching rules on waste documentation

A TATTOOIST has been fined £600 and ordered to pay Harlow Council £2,400 after ignoring repeated requests to provide documentation on how he disposed of his business waste.

Peter Clear, who runs La Geisha Tattoo Studio in East Walk, was found guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court of failing to provide descriptions of waste and waste transfer documents.

The court heard that in March 2012 Mr Clear was served with a notice under section 34 of the Environmental Protection Act 1990 requiring him to produce waste transfer documentation covering the period April 1, 2011 to March 21, 2012.

After waiting five weeks for the documentation, Harlow Council's community safety officers issued a fixed penalty notice for £300. When he failed to pay within the four-week limit, the council took the matter to court.

By law all businesses must have in place arrangements for waste collection and be able to show documentation about what waste has been collected and where it has been taken.

Phil Waite, the council's cabinet member for environment, said afterwards: "Rules are in place to ensure that disposed of to protect both the public and the environment. In this particular case we are talking about waste like old needles used for tattooing which need to be treated as clinical waste."

Child poverty rises as benefit cuts loom

ALMOST a quarter of Harlow youngsters live in poverty, according to shocking new report from a national children's charity.

Data released for last year by End Child Poverty show there were an estimated 4,621 under-19s living below the poverty line in Harlow - 23 per cent of the town's total child population.

According to the statistics, in some areas of the town the poverty rate was even higher, with the figure reaching 30 per cent in Staple Tye and Mark Hall wards.

Harlow ranks as the sixth worst local authority area for child poverty in the east of England, alongside Southend-on-Sea.

In comparison, neighbouring Chelmsford was found to have a 13 per cent child poverty rate, while 16 per cent of youngsters in Epping Forest and just nine per cent of children in Uttlesford were found to be living on the breadline.

End Child Poverty chairman Enver Solomon said the charity was now calling on Harlow Council to take action to protect low-income families from further misery.

"We're calling on authorities to prioritise low-income families in the decisions they make about local welfare spending," he said.

"This includes spending on the new council tax benefit and on protecting families hit by the bedroom tax."

Children are classed as being in poverty if they live in families who receive out of work benefits or in-work tax credits where their reported income is less than 60 per cent of the national average, before housing costs.

Cllr Mike Danvers, Harlow Council's cabinet portfolio holder for resources, said the authority would offer hard-up households as much protection as possible but warned that Government cuts to its funding would impact on the support available.

"We have developed a Council Tax Support Scheme within the significantly reduced Government funding available and will protect low-income families as much as we can."

"The council has made sure that child benefit and maintenance payments continue to be excluded as household income when calculating entitlement to council tax support."

"It is extremely difficult when the Government has cut funding, but we are doing everything we can to support and prepare residents for the forthcoming benefit changes."

Transport minister to discuss M11 junction plan

TRANSPORT minister Stephen Hammond has agreed to meet Harlow MP Robert Halfon to discuss plans for a second M11 junction for the town.

Speaking in the House of Commons during Parliamentary questions last week, Mr Halfon said Harlow desperately needed a new motorway junction, which he insisted would "unlock" thousands of jobs in the town.

Mr Halfon invited Mr Hammond to meet with him, along with representatives of Harlow Council, Essex County Council and the local enterprise partnership, to look at the plans, which will be part-funded by developer contributions.

In response, Mr Hammond said: "I am sure Robert is working with the relevant local authority to ensure that the business case is complete. I would, of course, be happy to meet him and discuss the proper proposal."

The M11 plans will be put out for public consultation in the next few weeks.

Big jump for charity as daredevils take on St Clare skydive

TWO Harlow thrillseekers are taking on a high-flying challenge to help raise money for St Clare Hospice.
 Sarah Hill (39) and Liz Howes (46) will both be jumping 13,000ft from a plane after signing up for the Hastingwood hospice's annual skydive on Saturday.
 Sarah, pictured right, from Church Langley, signed up for the adrenaline-fuelled jump as an early 40th birthday gift - and as a way of saying thank you for the care given to a close pal who died at St Clare.
 "I've always wanted to skydive," she said, "so when I had an email from St Clare about their fundraising events and saw the skydive I jumped at the chance.
 "I'm getting quite nervous
 now but I can't wait to do it.
 "I know how much support
 St Clare gave my friend and his wife who volunteers
 there, and how much it means to them.
 "I've exceeded my original £500 target so if I can raise even more that would be fantastic."
 Liz, of Barn Mead, Harlow, has already received pledges of more than £2,000 from friends, family and work

 colleagues and is hoping to raise at least £2,500.
 Fellow daredevil Liz, who works as a PA at Williams Lea, said: "I'm doing the skydive in memory of my friend Tim Barnes, who died at the hospice in September.
 "I visited Tim there several times and I was really impressed by the way they looked after him and his family. I just felt compelled to do something as staff were so fantastic."
 Last year 30 people took part in the skydive and raised a total of £16,000. This year 10 skydivers have signed up so far, with six people
 jumping on Saturday.
 Another group skydive will be held in the second half of the year and the hospice are hoping to top last year's total.
 Communications
 manager Lois Prior said:
 "Skydives appeal to the daredevils
 among us, but also those who want to challenge themselves.

"It's a significant moment in someone's life and we're

Mum of drowned teen questions lake safety

THE distraught mother of a Harlow teenager who drowned in a lake almost two years ago has questioned the lack of lifesaving equipment positioned at the water's edge.

Lawrence 'Loz' Patnell (18), of Church End, got into difficulties while attempting to swim out to a buoy in the middle of Lea Valley Regional Park's central lagoon at Broxbourne on May 23, 2010.

He sank 15ft before being dragged back to the surface by a local yachtsman and carried back to the shore. He was then taken by air ambulance to Princess Alexandra Hospital but died four days later.

Speaking at his inquest at Chelmsford Coroner's Court last week, Lawrence's mother, Susan Patnell, said she had been shocked to discover there were no emergency buoyancy aids positioned around the side of the lake.

But LVRPA ranger Martin Page, giving evidence, said that swimming was not allowed anywhere in the Lea Valley Park and there were no life preservers as a result.

Its leaseholders and licence-holders carried out their own risk assessments, he added.

Essex coroner Caroline Beasley-Murray asked: "Isn't there a risk even

COURT REPORTER

FLASHBACK: Star, May 27, 2010

though swimming is forbidden? You may have things like this when a group will decide on the spur of the moment on a hot day to jump in."

But Mr Page replied that it was "a very, very rare occurrence". He said the park authority had introduced measures to educate people about the dangers of water since the fatal incident but it was still not proposing to put life preservers anywhere in the park.

The inquest heard that it had been hot on the day of the tragedy and that Lawrence and friends had gone to the central lagoon to cool off. At around 5pm he and others had decided to try to swim to a buoy in the centre of the lake.

When he started to struggle, friends in the water tried to keep him afloat while others on the lakeside rushed over to nearby Broxbourne Sailing Club to get help.

Martin Wood, who was just packing up, told the inquest: "There was no sign of him at all so it was a case of just swimming out and diving down to try and find him."

"On the third occasion I did manage to grab his ankle but by the time you dive that deep you have literally seconds, so it was a frantic grab and then back to the surface."

"I eventually dragged him to the surface and a couple of other lads came out and helped me to bring him back in to the bank. We were struggling quite hard to bring him up to the bank."

Lawrence was taken by air ambulance to PAH but died four days later, on May 27. He suffered four cardiac arrests en route to the hospital.

Ms Patnell thanked Mr Wood, whom she had not met before the inquest. "If you hadn't done what you did we would not have had him for the extra few days, so thank you," she said.

The coroner recorded a verdict of accidental death.

Poundland scheme given a thumbs up at public exhibition

BUDGET chain Poundland has unveiled its ambitious plans to build a new 20-acre distribution centre in Harlow at a public exhibition.

More than 80 people attended the consultation held at Harlow Town Football Club last Wednesday. According to the company, many of them showed their support for the proposed plans.

Last week the Star reported on the scheme for a single storey distribution centre at Pinnacles, which is expected to provide work for around 650 people.

Simon Pease, managing director of town planning and development consultants Ancer Spa, said: "We were pleased with the turnout and the majority of people who visited really supported the plans."

"Of course there were one or two people who were more reserved and had a few concerns but overall the support was great. I think the news of Tesco's closure means that more people want Poundland's distribution centre here with all the benefits it will bring."

The proposals have now completed the pre-application consultation and will be submitted to Harlow Council.

Mr Pease added: "Now that local businesses and people have been given the opportunity to have a look at the drawings, what's coming and what they can expect, we are looking for the council to make a positive decision by June this year in regards to the plans."

"It is a tight programme but feasible and we can make sure all the council's enquiries are addressed. Poundland would like to be in operation towards the middle of next year."

Prior to the opening of the new centre, the budget chain will be working with local partners and Harlow Council to introduce local jobseekers to employment opportunities.

If approved, the centre will service Poundland stores across the UK and will be built on the existing Pitney Bowes and GlaxoSmithKline sites.

GOSH, fundraiser Rosanna bags another two kisses

CHART-toppers Gareth Gates and Chico are the latest celebrities to pucker up for charity fundraiser Rosanna Long.

The 24-year-old smooched the two singers before they took to the stage in Boogie Nights at the Stevenage Arts & Leisure Centre on Thursday.

But Rosanna, of Markwell Wood, Harlow, almost missed the opportunity to kiss the pair after a ticket mix up at Kings Cross station.

"I got to the theatre two minutes before the show started and quickly got backstage," said recruitment consultant Rosanna. "Gareth was really nice and quite shy but Chico said he was really looking forward to being kissed."

Rosanna is aiming to kiss 50 celebrities this year to raise money for Great Ormond Street Hospital. She has now puckered up to eight celebrities since starting her fundraising challenge, including Davina McCall, Richard Blackwood, Louisa Lytton, Shane Richie Junior, Andy Abraham and Elizabeth McGovern.

Pupils celebrate 40th birthday with a new look

MILWARDS The primary school kicked off its birthday celebrations early as students, parents, staff and governors voted for a brand new logo.

After a busy day at the polls, with 372 votes cast, the winning design was unveiled last month and will become the school's official crest from April 30, when Milwards celebrates its 40th anniversary.

Headteacher Angela Downie said: "We did a bit of research on our current logo and it had no meaning behind it and wasn't relevant to us."

"We decided to get three logos designed that meant something to the school and have them voted on. The most popular will now become the official logo. "We had proper voting booths which we borrowed from Harlow Council and ballot papers too which was great. "Year 5 were the official invigilators and they were very excited to be doing it, it was a great day!"

Chick out nursery's cute Easter arrivals

RAINDROPS DAY NURSERY

Children were this week given the opportunity to welcome some adorable new arrivals.

Ten eggs were given to nursery in Harberts Road, Harlow, by Living Eggs, a chicken hatching programme for schools and carehomes. So far seven have hatched.

The chicks will be looked after at the nursery until next Friday, when they will be found new homes or donated to Pets' Corner.

Nursery nurse Peri-Anne Phreys said: "The children absolutely love them and some will not move away from the incubator because they are so fascinated by them."

"The chicks have all been named by the children and we have Chickira, Elvis, Fluff, Dipper, Betty, Shaniqua and Roger!"

"This is all part of teaching our kids about growth and life cycles. We are doing lots of activities to make sure it's as fun and educational as possible."

And a lovely time was had by one and all . . .

BLOSSOMS NURSERY

Valentine's Day was made even more special for one nursery when they celebrated the special day in their new home.

Parents were invited to Blossoms Nursery's new surroundings at Thornwood Common.

Almost 50 parents, carers and youngsters took part in various activities including Valentine's painting and sticking, construction building and storytelling.

They also enjoyed refreshments of cakes and biscuits made by the children which followed the loved-up theme.

Nursery manager Bobbi Chana said: "We really enjoyed our Valentine's morning. Everyone worked so hard for this day to make it as special as possible. "Our children enjoyed the preparations by making banners using paints and learning about the colour red and the heart shape. "Children discussed this special day and what it means to them - they called it 'a love you' day. They also had fun making cakes, biscuits and Valentine lovebug cards for their loved ones."

The nursery moved into its new premises last month from Church Langley.

Balls blasts 'deeply unfair' bedroom tax

SHADOW Chancellor Ed Balls launched a blistering attack on the Government's so-called 'bedroom tax' during a visit to Harlow on Thursday.

Mr Balls, accompanied by Labour parliamentary hopeful Suzy Stride, met a local family to discuss how the controversial new legislation will affect council or housing association tenants deemed to have a spare bedroom in their home.

As part of the Government's plans to reform the welfare system, people living in social housing who have one or more spare bedrooms will have their benefit payments cut.

Mr Balls and Ms Stride visited the home of Penny Mead (57) in Great Plumtree to talk to her about the measure and highlight what he branded a "completely disastrous idea".

Disabled Mrs Mead, a doctor of psychology who has lived in her three-bedroom home for 20 years, said: "An occupational therapist came and assessed my living conditions and my illness.

"The therapist told us that it would be too expensive to adapt this house to our needs as I will eventually need to use a wheelchair indoors and we wanted to move to make life easier.

"It was agreed and stated that we would need a second bedroom as I wake up a lot during the night because of this disease and it affects my husband, Trevor. Then we got the letter through saying that we had two spare bedrooms and would need to pay 25 per cent of our housing benefit rent."

BIANCA CASTRO

bianca.castro@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Mr Balls told the Star: "I think all the evidence is accumulating that bedroom tax is a completely disastrous idea.

"The Government set out its good intentions to free up properties for families and to save money, but what you find is two-thirds of the people affected are people with disabilities who are being told to move home.

"But, like I've been discussing with this family, there aren't those one and two-bed houses for them to move into so they're just told you're going to be worse off and hit hard in your wallet.

"The other option is to move to a privately rented house where the rents are higher and it will end up costing more."

Each year almost 1,000 people join Harlow Council's housing register, but there are only around 500 homes available to meet the demand.

Mr Balls said the Government can only solve the housing problem by building more homes.

"People are currently waiting for homes that aren't there," he said. "I think the Government should be getting people back to work by building homes which would deal with the waiting list problem and free up the space for people like Penny and Trevor to move to a two-bedroom home and leaving this three-bedroom home available for another family.

"I am all for housing benefit reform but the bedroom tax is a disastrous way to do it. I am all about being tough but this is deeply unfair and deeply perverse.

"It's going to cost more and make people with disabilities, foster parents, parents that don't have their children living with them full time and people with children serving abroad worse off. It's totally unfair."

The bedroom tax will come into effect next month with an estimated 660,000 working-age tenants being affected by the changes.

Ms Stride added: "We know that people in Harlow and people up and down the country are angry about people that abuse the benefit system. We know that changes are needed and that savings need to be made, but why this way?

"This is targeting hardworking people like Penny who has worked her whole life and who are now getting penalised for a situation they can't help.

"She wants to move to a smaller property that will make life easier and is told there's nothing available.

"The Tories have cut back massively on what we were going to spend on housing - and building new houses is the key.

"I understand that changes and reforms need to be made but this isn't the right way to do it."

But Harlow MP Robert Halfon said there was a huge problem of under-occupancy across Britain, with almost one million bedrooms unused.

"One third of social tenants on housing benefit are living in homes bigger than they truly need and the result of this is two million families stuck on the housing waiting list, unable to get a home at all," he said. "We have to be fair to them as well.

"To deal with this, the Government is trying to level the playing field. In exactly the same way as currently happens in the private rented sector, social tenants will only get benefits according to the rooms that they actually use.

"This is not a tax as has been suggested by some, wanting to create mischief. It is in fact a small benefit reduction."

I work full time and can't afford a property with a spare bedroom. Why the hell should my tax be used to pay for a SPARE bedroom for someone who doesn't work and is in social housing?
...Dave

The "bedroom tax" proves without a doubt that the Government is out of touch with reality. If someone is on benefits, how on earth will they be able to afford the cost of moving/downsizing?
...Darren

The cut in benefits should come with an offer of suitable downsized accommodation
...Barrie

Will all the freed up housing go to Harlow people who are waiting on the list for a bigger property?
...Patrick

The very simple answer to this disgusting bedroom tax is DON'T PAY IT. I am a full-time carer and I think it's a cheap and lousy way to line the Government rich boys pockets
...Chris W

What a joke these new rules times are. It's hard enough for some people at the moment

Dance show a memory to treasure

HARLOW Playhouse has hosted many dance troupes over the years, but few will have captured the imagination in quite the same way as the Dimitrovec Folk Dance Ensemble.

Almost 30 years since their dazzling performance in July 1983, regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill still remembers their visit vividly - and brought in a letter proving the colourful Czechoslovakian ensemble left the town with lasting memories of their own.

"I helped promote their concert as part of my job at the council, and they later wrote me a letter saying how much they had enjoyed visiting Harlow," he recalled.

"They put on a memorable performance of traditional folk dance decked out in wonderful costumes.

"Naturally, I'd be interested to find out if anyone else remembers seeing them."

Records smashed by school's star athletes

CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

NETTESWELL School Band's remarkable achievements in the 1960s and 1970s have been well-documented on the pages of Nostalgia - but the school's young musicians weren't the only pupils to excel in their field.

This week we look back on the record-breaking exploits of the school's athletics teams at the 1966 Harlow Comprehensive Schools Championships.

Held at the now-demolished Sportcentre in Hammarskjold Road, the fiercely-contested competition saw both the Netteswell's boys' and girls' teams triumph - and a whole host of long-standing records toppled.

According to a press cutting from the Harlow Gazette kindly supplied to Nostalgia by former pupil Paul Wadley, the contest was so close it took a recount before Netteswell were declared champions.

Although Paul himself failed to pick up a winner's medal, several of his schoolmates set new records for their disciplines.

Referred to by their surnames in the article, the report states that the girls' intermediate hurdles race was won by 'Scales of Netteswell', who smashed the previous school record by an impressive eight seconds, while 'Tarplin' cleared 7ft 6ins to scale new heights in the pole vault. Other Netteswell record-breakers on the day included 'Edgescombe' who managed to hurl a discus 154ft 3in and 'Eales', who broke the record for the intermediate boys' mile despite finishing second.

Paul, who also supplied the above photograph of the winning boys' team, is now on a mission to track down his former team-mates - and appealed for Nostalgia readers' help.

"This photograph was sent to me by my friend Keith Trigg, who is sitting cross-legged at the far right of the front row," he said.

"For some reason I am not in the photo. I was probably circumventing the globe singlehanded in a rowing boat or was subject to an hour's detention!

"However, some of my old school colleagues are pictured and I am now attempting to identify as many as possible. Both Keith and I were 14 years of age at the time it was taken in 1966."

If anyone can help Paul identify his former schoolmates, they can e-mail him directly at pbwadley@supanet.com.

Son jailed for wedding day attack on dad

A MAN who left his father with a fractured skull and impaired hearing after assaulting him at a wedding reception has been jailed for 12 months.

Chelmsford Crown Court heard that Glen Williams (28), of Arkwrights, Harlow, had borne a grudge against his dad, Richard, since childhood and had not spoken to him for more than two years before the attack on August 5 last year.

The court was told that despite the pair appearing to chat amicably earlier in the evening, Williams launched himself at his father as they left the event in Park Avenue at around 1am, punching him and causing him to crack his head against a lamp post.

The "tremendous force" of the blow knocked Mr Williams unconscious, fracturing his skull and breaking two bones in his neck.

Mr Williams later reported he had been left permanently deaf in his right ear and continues to suffer from "unbearable" tinnitus. He also lost his senses of smell and taste and has extreme bouts of vertigo.

Williams, of previous good character, pleaded guilty to inflicting grievous bodily harm and was jailed for 12 months.

Craig Tipper, representing the defendant, said in mitigation that his client had felt abandoned by Mr Williams after he left his wife and children.

"His father left home and that's the thrust of the defendant's animosity towards his father," said Mr Tipper.

He added that Williams claimed the attack had been the result of a build-up of "years of anger and upset" towards his father.

But judge Anthony Goldstaub said that whatever Mr Williams had done in the past, it did not warrant a "revenge" attack.

"You approached him when he was on his own and punched him with tremendous force as he rested his head against a lamp post," said the judge. "You cracked his skull and caused him severe damage with that one blow."

"It was a totally unprovoked and unjustified blow."

Football kids get a helping hand from businessman supporter Tony

A TEAM of young footballers has scored big after receiving a financial leg-up from a local businessman.

McDonald's franchisee Tony Fagg has donated more than £1,700 to Langley Colts Youth to help pay for much-needed training equipment - including new goalposts - and on-going club developments.

The businessman - who has supported Langley Colts since 2011 and runs seven fast-food restaurants across Essex, Hertfordshire and north London - handed over the new equipment last week at the team's base at Mark Hall Sports Centre.

He said: "I'm really proud to be able to support Langley Colts. They are a fantastic club which provides a great education in football and enable 250 children to get active."

Langley Colts chairman Arshad Quershi added: "Tony's donations throughout the three years he has supported us has really helped the club."

"We are all about kids having fun in football and anyone can join us, Tony's donations help us build on that."

iPads could help crews to save lives

ESSEX Air Ambulance is flying high after receiving a £500 donation from bus operator FirstGroup.

The cheque was presented to air ambulance crews last week as part of the transport firm's charity and sponsorship scheme.

The money will be used to buy two iPads for use by air crew doctors and paramedics.

Julian Elliot, FirstGroup's network manager for Essex, said: "The work they do is invaluable and I'm very pleased to have been a part of the application process."

"All the team do such a great job and I'm proud to know that the money donated by FirstGroup will aid the Essex Air Ambulance in continuing to save the lives of the people of Essex."

Aderyn Gillet, special projects co-ordinator for Essex & Herts Ambulance Trust, said: "The use of iPads will dramatically change the way in which the doctor and paramedic teams work."

"Ultimately auditing systems would become paperless, saving time and funds, and enabling crews to carry out their life-saving work more effectively and helping those who need us most."

Council tax rise to save services and cut crime

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

INCREASED council tax demands from Essex Police and Harlow Council will see bills rise by an average of £7.60 this year.

Essex Police has increased its share of the tax burden by 3.49 per cent, while the council has raised its precept for the first time in three years. Both Essex County Council - which collects 70 per cent of the annual charge - and Essex Fire Authority have frozen their demands. The final figures were formally set at a special meeting of Harlow Council on Thursday. The changes mean the annual council tax bill for an average Band C household is set to rise to £1,377.76 - an overall increase of 0.55 per cent on last year's levy.

Harlow Council leader Mark Wilkinson, pictured right, said the Labour-controlled authority's "nominal" increase would help protect services in the face of unprecedented cuts to its budget by central government. "The money raised by increasing our share of council tax by 1.5 per cent will help protect the services we provide, especially when the council is faced with making savings of £1.75m to balance its books for 2013/14," he said. "Increasing council tax was not something we wanted to do but it will help us budget for the future and protect residents from steeper increases in future. The average council tax payer in the town will pay an extra 6p a week to Harlow Council." Although the council collects the tax on behalf of all four precepting authorities, it only receives a small proportion of the total amount. Out of every £100 collected in Harlow, £17 goes towards services provided by Harlow Council, while Essex County Council takes the biggest share of £70. The remainder is split between Essex

Police (£9) and Essex Fire Authority (£4). Police and crime commissioner Nick Alston said increasing the force's tax demand would help cut crime across the county. "In real terms, I am asking for an extra 40p a month to fund our police force and crime reduction work," he said. "I believe it would be irresponsible of me, indeed that I would be failing in my duty, if I didn't make the case for this small increase in the portion of council tax used to fund policing." As the Star reported last month, thousands of hard-up households will be expected to contribute towards their council tax bill for the first time this year following the abolition of Council Tax Benefit. Under the new system, working age claimants currently entitled to a 100 per cent rebate will be required to pay at least 24 per cent of their council tax bill from April 1. Only pensioners will be exempt, with limited financial help also available for those who will genuinely struggle to pay.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Immigration 'under control'

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has welcomed latest immigration figures that show the number of people arriving to settle in the UK has fallen by almost a third since 2010. Official stats from the Office for National Statistics show that overall immigration in the year ending June 2012 was 163,000 - a significant reduction from 247,000 in the previous year. "The Conservatives are pushing through reforms which are bringing immigration back under control," said Mr Halfon. "These latest statistics show the work is paying off."

HEALTH CHECK

in partnership with the Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust

Don't waste time at A&E if it's not an emergency

LATEST figures from Princess Alexandra Hospital show that in January almost 1,000 patients who turned up to be treated in the accident and emergency department ended up being directed elsewhere.

"People don't always realise that they should try other treatments first before coming to A&E," said clinical director Peter Bishop. "We regularly have people coming to us complaining about a spot on their nose, sore throats or even a hangover. A&E should be for accidents and emergencies only!"

"Assessing these people not only wastes their time as they have to wait to be seen before being sent away, but it adds unnecessary pressure to the department and can mean resources are tied up seeing non-urgent patients."

"In many cases people can get the right treatment from their (out of hours) GP or pharmacist."

Now the hospital and the West Essex Clinical Commissioning Group want people to think twice before calling an ambulance or turning up at A&E with conditions which could be best dealt with elsewhere.

Toni Coles of the WECOG said: "In January, 943 patients who came to A&E were advised to go elsewhere. Had they been seen at

A&E it would have cost the local NHS tens of thousands of pounds and, more importantly, would have reduced the time doctors and nurses could focus on the most seriously ill.

"Princess Alexandra Hospital has now introduced an urgent care service to direct patients to the most appropriate place to receive care. However, we are asking people to consider carefully whether they need to come to A&E in the first instance."

One course of action is to check out the Choose Well website, which gives information about a range of symptoms and where best to get advice and care.

Mr Bishop added: "Please remember that A&E should be for the most serious conditions including choking, chest pain, blackouts and blood loss."

SAINT NICHOLAS SCHOOL OLD HARLOW

SAINT Nicholas School in Old Harlow was judged 'excellent' overall in the recent Independent Schools' Inspection.

According to the report, pupils at the school "are extremely well educated .... are extremely articulate ...

have highly positive attitudes to their work.... and achieve high standards in many areas".

The inspectors also found that "teachers know their pupils well, and the rapport between them adds to the strength of the teaching."

Pupils impressed the inspection team enormously, leading them to state that all pupils are "extremely confident and responsible ... courteous and considerate ... and tolerance and harmony are part of the school community."

The report said the school's excellent governance and visionary leadership provided clear educational direction, ensuring that the school achieves its aims of providing a caring, family environment in which pupils thrive, well-prepared for the next stage of their life

Headmaster Keith Knight said: "I am delighted with the inspection report. "I am particularly pleased that the inspectors highlighted the school's excellent pastoral care and harmonious and supportive environment which permeates our school community."

If you would like to attend the school's open morning on Saturday, March 9 or require any further information about Saint Nicholas School, please contact Julie Bradley on admissions@saintnicholasschool.net or call (01279) 429910.

HOWE GREEN HOUSE SCHOOL GREAT HALLINGBURY

HAVING recently celebrated its 25th anniversary, Howe Green House School in Great Hallingbury continues to go from strength to strength.

Following inspection in November 2011 by the Independent Schools' Inspectorate, the school was thrilled to be awarded 'excellent' in every category.

A proactive governing board works with the headmaster to ensure the school continues to be in the forefront of education.

A rolling plan to develop and improve facilities means that a new purpose-built junior building has just been opened and the existing junior classrooms will be developed to provide a larger IT suite, library and art and craft rooms.

Headmaster Graham Gorton said: "This is an exciting new phase for our school as new teaching areas further enhance the provision whilst still retaining for small classes with the family at the heart of the school's community."

For more information about the school, please call (01279) 657706 or visit www.howegreenhouseschool.co.uk.

COOPERSALE HALL SCHOOL EPPING

WITH limited availability remaining at Epping's Coopersale Hall School, there has been a surge in interest from families looking for their children to start in September 2013, perhaps moving from other local schools in order to broaden their education with more specialist tuition and bring out the potential in their children.

In response to the growing demand for places for younger children aged four to seven, headmistress Kaye Lovejoy has worked hard to find extra time for interviews and school tours with parents and children.

"I have noticed a rise in demand, particularly for places in Years 1-4, as well as in the normal kindergarten and reception," she said.

"Most families come to us either because they have been recommended by a current parent or because they've heard about the well-rounded strong academic education we offer."

Bucking national trends, all three Oak-Tree Schools - Normanhurst, Coopersale Hall and Oaklands - have grown over the last year, partly due to their notable reputations in the area for providing excellent education in stimulating environments, and are preparing for new families to visit on the open mornings during the second week in March.

Mission to Mars for billionaire space tourist

AN American billionaire has unveiled ambitious plans to send a man and woman on a truly out-of-this-world holiday - a return trip to Mars!

Dennis Tito, who in 2001 became the first private space tourist when he paid £13m for a return ticket to the International Space Station, hopes his bold mission will kickstart a new era of space exploration.

It will take around 501 days to fly around Mars and return to Earth... but the spaceship won't actually land on the red planet.

No humans have ever travelled to Mars before.

The project organisers are now looking for an adventurous married couple to hop on board the spaceship.

Conditions on board are likely to be quite cramped, with one report suggesting that around 1,360kg of dehydrated food would be needed to feed the space travellers for the journey.

The two passengers would also need a whopping 28kg of toilet paper to last them the trip!

Anu Ohja, director of the UK Space Agency, told reporters: "As a voyage of human discovery, this would be the most significant journey in the history of our species."

"It will be extremely uncomfortable but it is doable."

Although he still has to raise millions of dollars of funding before his mission can blast off, the space-mad billionaire is determined to boldly go where no man has gone before.

He said: "We have not sent humans beyond the Moon in more than 40 years."

"I've been waiting - a lot of people my age have been waiting - and I think it's time to put an end to that lapse."

Welcome return of the Rockney rebels

GERTCHA! Prepare for a good-old fashioned knees-up as rock 'n' roll legends Chas 'n' Dave bring a cavalcade of cockney classics to Harlow Playhouse next week.

Back on stage together by huge popular demand, the indomitable duo - nimble-fingered pianist Chas Hodges and bass ace Dave Peacock - will be performing their best-loved hits from a career that stretches back to the early 1970s.

The pals began writing and performing songs together in 1972 after a chance meeting in 1963 set them on the road to stardom.

Both bass players in rock 'n' roll bands, their paths first crossed when Chas thumbed a lift home from an old schoolmate - and found Dave sitting in the back seat. "It was pure luck how we first met," Chas told the Star. "But it was obviously meant to be because we soon realised we had

CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

identical musical tastes.

"It wasn't long before we'd become best mates."

It would be another nine years before Chas 'n' Dave was born, soon after Chas had an epiphany while touring the US with country rockers Heads, Hands & Feet.

"I started to feel like a bit of a fraud, singing to Americans in my fake American accent," he said. "That's where the idea for Chas 'n' Dave came from - I wanted to write songs that reflected who I was and where I grew up."

After convincing Dave to join him and settling on a name - "I know it ain't the most original but it was either that or Chavvy", he explained - it wasn't long before the pair became household names, going on to release 14 albums, notch up eight top 40 singles and even host their own TV show.

They called it a day in 2009 following the death of Dave's wife, but it would only prove a temporary hiatus after massive demand from their fans saw them reunite for what had originally been billed as a "farewell" tour in 2011.

Instead, the huge success of those shows has convinced them to hit the road again. And there's nowhere Chas would rather be.

"People say I must be mad to want to carry on touring at my age, but to me playing live is like food and drink. If I don't play at least once a week I can't be sleeping!"

● Chas 'n' Dave play The Playhouse next Wednesday and Thursday (March 13-14). Performances start at 7.30pm and tickets cost £24 each from www.playhouseharlow.com or (01279) 431945.

It's Life Of Riley for Moot House Players as group celebrates 60th birthday

HARLOW'S longest-running am-dram company kicks off its 60th birthday celebrations in fine style tonight (Thursday) with a riotous new adaptation of Alan Ayckbourn's hilarious comedy Life Of Riley.

Moot House Players will be hoping to wring laughs from the unlikelyst of sources with their production of the 2010 play, which examines the fractious relationships between three troubled couples thrust together by a dying friend's final wish.

As the group reflect on the lives they have and could have lived, they are unaware their terminally-ill pal is plotting a high-flying final farewell which threatens to upset all their futures for better or for worse.

Despite being the protagonist of the piece, the eponymous Riley never appears on stage, although the disruptive effects he has on those around him are all too evident as he uses his last days to try to put a spark back into their flatlining relationships.

A provocative tale of love, lust and friendship, the drama will be directed by MHP stalwart Jon McNamara, who has proved a steady hand at the helm of many the group's past Ayckbourn productions.

He told the Star: "The great thing about Ayckbourn is that he is a master of observation; he creates such believable characters."

"His work is all about life and its nuances - it's almost like a soap opera in that respect - and I think this is why he has such enduring appeal."

"It's almost impossible not to find something you can closely relate to in his characterisation and storytelling, and there are few better at finding humour in the most unexpected of places."

He added: "Although this is not one of his best-known plays, it's a hugely entertaining piece of theatre full of humour that has been a joy to work on."

"We've had great fun in rehearsals and I'm confident audiences will find it just as engaging."

● Life Of Riley opens tonight (Thursday) at Moot Hall in The Stow. The show runs until Sunday, with performances starting at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £8 (concessions £6) and are available from (01279) 639170.

What's on at The Square

TONIGHT Revel in three-chord catharsis tonight as Incoming presents a quadruple-bill of angst-fuelled alt-rock featuring Burn So Bright, Evarane, Go-X and Benjamin Black. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £4 (free for members).

FRIDAY Proving that ambient hardcore is anything but an oxymoron, brooding Bedfordshire four-piece Canvas bring their explosive live show to Harlow. Support comes from metal misfits Shields and homegrown hardcore heroes Distance To Fall. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £5.

SATURDAY The Square bares all tonight as it hosts a sinfully sensual evening of bump 'n' grind burlesque in aid of The Pilgrims Hospice. Hosted by Harlow's own Miss C and London cabaret artiste Sadie Sinner, the sultry strip show will be followed by live DJ sets featuring the very best tunes from the 60s, 70s, 80s and 90s. Doors open at 8pm and admission is £5.

SUNDAY: The Square Quiz returns to test your grey matter with all manner of taxing teasers. Starting at 9pm, admission costs £1.

Return to Oz is no magical mystery tour

MADE in 1939 for the staggering sum of $3.7m dollars, The Wizard Of Oz failed to cast a spell over audiences on its initial release.

But more than 70 years later, Victor Fleming's fantastical yarn is one of the most beloved family films in the cinematic pantheon and a staple of the Christmas television schedules.

In 1985 Disney revived the iconic character of Dorothy Gale in Return To Oz, based on two novels by Frank L. Baum. But like its predecessor, the unofficial sequel failed to curry favour with audiences.

Now director Sam Raimi, who propelled the Spider-Man trilogy to dizzy heights, has the unenviable task of helming this lavish prequel which chronicles the arrival of the eponymous wizard in Oz.

In an affectionate nod to the 1939 film, Oz The Great And Powerful opens in black and white and flushes the screen with vibrant colour once the story moves to the magical realm of flying monkeys

OZ THE GREAT AND POWERFUL
certificate PG, 2h10m

and munchkins.

Small-time circus magician Oscar Diggs (James Franco) is booed off stage in 1905 Kansas and finds himself in hot water with the resident strongman. Bidding a hasty farewell to his sweetheart Annie (Michelle Williams), who is poised to marry another man, Oscar escapes in a hot air balloon.

The canopy is sucked into an approaching tornado and Oscar crash-lands in a wondrous realm where ancient prophecy decrees that a wizard will fall from the sky and reign benevolently over Oz.

Beautiful witch Theodora (Mila Kunis) accompanies Oscar to the Emerald City, where her sister Evanora (Rachel Weisz) and the other denizens live in fear of the wicked witch Glinda (Michelle Williams).

Oz The Great And Powerful is a visual treat - especially in eye-popping 3D - and it's evident that most of the $200m dollar budget has been lavished on digital effects.

The film follows the template of the recent re-imagining of Alice In Wonderland, bombarding our retinas with outlandish set pieces. Some of the visual trickery isn't as slick as it should be and the copious special effects come at the expense of plot and characterisation.

Mitchell Kapner and David Lindsay-Abaire's script boasts a few snappy one-liners but it's perilously flimsy and the 130-minute running time is unwieldy.

Warmth and charm have almost been sucked dry from this incarnation of Oz and performances are muted, especially Franco, who bumbles through his scenes as if he is making up dialogue on the spot.

Margaret Hamilton was far more terrifying as the green-hued Wicked Witch back in 1939 than anything Raimi conjures from his cast here.

certificate 15, 1h58m

JASON Statham is Parker, a thief with honour and principles who follows the sage words of his mentor Hurley (Nick Nolte) and never steals from the poor or vulnerable.

Parker agrees to do a job with four men he has never worked with before - Carlson (Wendell Pierce), Hardwicke (Micah A Hauptman), Melander (Michael Chiklis) and Ross (Clifton Collins Jr). The heist goes well but when Melander suggests a second robbery, Parker refuses and he is shot in the back and left for dead.

While Melander and his associates move on to Palm Beach in order to carry out a new heist, Parker recuperates briefly in hospital and then embarks on his revenge mission, posing as a rich Texan called Daniel Parmitt in order to get closer to his unsuspecting prey.

Florida estate agent Leslie Rogers (Jennifer Lopez) thinks she has hit the jackpot when Daniel swaggers into town looking to buy property, but she eventually exposes him as a fraud and offers to help Parker bring down Melander in exchange for a hefty commission.

SIDE EFFECTS
certificate 15, 1h46m

OFFICE worker Emily Taylor (Rooney Mara) is crippled with anxiety about the impending release of her jailbird husband Martin (Channing Tatum), who has served four years for insider trading.

Top psychiatrist Jonathan Banks (Jude Law), who has been asked to assess her after a failed suicide attempt, prescribes a new medication to calm Emily's nerves. Soon after, in a drug-induced haze, she commits an unspeakable act.

As the media swarms, attention turns to Jonathan's culpability for supplying the pills that led to an act of unimaginable violence. Jonathan's wife Dierdre (Vinessa Shaw) and business partners abandon him in his hour of need.

Faced with the prospect of losing his medical licence, Jonathan investigates the drug, aided by Emily's former shrink Dr Victoria Siebert (Catherine Zeta-Jones).

Mars moves into your sign, and this can do wonders for your drive and personal energy, both which may have been blunted by recent cosmic activity. With the New Moon providing a potent backdrop, there is a sense of getting into a more dynamic frame of mind, whilst still being mindful of more sensitive considerations. Just don't believe all you hear! Call for more news and astral advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
On the back of last week's New Moon, you can find yourself feeling really optimistic about the future. Yet Mercury squares up with Jupiter this week, so when it comes to money, it's best to apply the mantra that if something sounds too good to be true, then it probably is. Fortunately, an old skill or old contact can come in very handy for you Taurus. Call for your financial forecast in full...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
With your ruler Mercury in its last week of its current retrograde, and merging into a square with the bountiful Jupiter in your sign, if you promise or pledge something around a job, role or task, you will need to see it through, or else your credibility will suffer. And yet with Mars storming into a great location, friends can prove to be a major help. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
Someone may tell you something which they mean in good faith, but it mightn't be true. Then again, someone's exaggeration should be taken for what it is - wishful thinking. Your desire to expand your horizons shows no sign of diminishing and your getting your voice heard will become important. Just don't push your point of view too forcefully. Call me for your in-depth forecast...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
As much as one group of people or one friend have seemed to be very good fun, and perhaps hearty company, you might need to just watch you are not too enthusiastic here. There may be undercurrents and politics that you are not aware of that will emerge, and change your view. Yet, any form of adventure, travel or outward bounds pursuits can appeal. Call for more advice...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
You may want to make a good impression on one influential person, and you can, especially with a "can do" attitude. However, it is important that you don't big yourself up, and then lose interest. In love, you may find one person really does make your pulse race, and you can find it's something of a compulsive attraction. But ask yourself, will it last? A feistier you can emerge as Mars travels into in your sign of partnerships, and by the week's end races towards a connection with Uranus. If you feel someone has been unfair or lacking respect, they'll soon know they need to take more note of you. This can be a good time to commit to a fitness campaign too, but just don't overdo it, go in stages Libra. Call now for more advice...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
Splashing out on a big ticket item might prove tempting this week, but then if you figure you can save money or time or make your life run more efficiently, you may decide it is worth it. With one of the best New Moon's of the whole year providing great background support, you can feel more attractive and draw a lot of admiration or goodness your way. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
Scorpio continues to rewind in your sector of emotions, but its angle with Jupiter may see you tempted to brush someone off who wants to talk about a sensitive subject. Don't! Even if you are reluctant to open up, there is much to be gained by sharing your true thoughts and feelings. By the week's end, Mars can bring a much greater spark to bear. Call for more news and astral advice...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
Your mind continues to work overtime, but it could lead to a careless comment or something being said which you may later regret. You might also become a bit defensive if someone asks you a question you don't like, or tries to pin you down about a touchy subject. To deal with this, try to think carefully when discussing any issue, before giving your point of view. Call for more news...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
Your more outspoken side can come to the fore as Mars begins to merge with your co-ruler Uranus. However, this can also see you be much more content about expressing your quirkier side, and this could also see you come up with a real slice of ingenuity. Someone close to you may ask for some financial help. If you don't want to help, don't cave in. Call for your financial scope in full...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
With Mercury continuing to rewind, and forging a tight right angle to Jupiter, you might find yourself frustrated if one plan seems to be going back and forwards. If money is involved, Mars can help you to assert your side of the story. But equally, the desire to spend loot can become really quite strong as the week winds down, with an impulsive purchase possible. Call now for more...

The property, which has three bedrooms, is on the market chain-free. With double glazing and gas central heating, it is ideal for those looking to move in with little or nothing to do.

From the entrance hall there are stairs to the first floor landing, a stylish vertical radiator and a stable door to the rear garden.

There is also a door to the kitchen which has two windows to the front of the house and features a range of wall and base units with wooden work surfaces. There is a butler sink, an integrated dishwasher, space for a range cooker, fridge/freezer and plumbing for a washing machine.

Double doors open into the lounge, where there is a cast iron Victorian-style gas fire and French doors to the rear garden. There is also a door to the conservatory which in turn has patio doors to the rear garden.

Move upstairs and on the first floor landing there is a window to the side aspect, an airing cupboard and loft access. Doors lead off to the three bedrooms, all of which have built-in storage.

The family bathroom has two opaque windows to the rear aspect and a panel-enclosed bath with electric shower above.

The 45ft rear garden has been landscaped and is mainly laid to patio with a brick-built shed, decking and rear access.

The property is on the market with Kings Group. Call (01279) 433033 for full details or to arrange a viewing.

Tracey Waples Property Editor

IT'S time to sharpen your elbows and get your local estate agents on speed dial. The new house-hunting season is officially open and it's competitive out there!

If our Homes Now section is anything to go by there are some great houses coming on to the market but the best ones are selling quickly.

Just last week, friends of mine moved into their new home which they had only secured by winning a bidding war.

Latest figures from the National Association of Estate Agents show that the number of house hunters registered per member branch is increasing. This is backed up by the Council of Mortgage Lenders which revealed that the number of first-time buyers is also at a five-year high.

Whether you're looking for a fabulous barn conversion in a rural setting or a period character townhouse, low supply and high demand mean that buyers need to employ every trick in the book to get ahead in their search for a new home.

Every time you see a property you think might be THE one, there is likely to be at least another buyer or two with the same idea.

If you want to find the place of your dreams, you'll have to park your laid-back attitude and employ all of your initiative and 'go getting' skills to make it happen. You're going to need persistence and a network of contacts.

Make a friend of your estate agents. Get them on side. When an agent is marketing a property that he or she knows will sell well, prospective buyers are the last thing they need to worry about.

You need to stand out above the others. Make the effort to get to know your agent and explain exactly what you're looking for. It can only help...

Making Moving Easier

Moving day can be stressful enough, but a bit of forethought can go a long way.

For example, many people take the opportunity to clear any unwanted junk out of their homes and lives. Charity shops, car boot sales, and friends can be grateful recipients of some items, and hiring a small skip for a couple of weeks (about £80-£120) can be liberating!

Our advice would be to have a clear-out early in the process ideally before you even put your property on the market. An uncluttered house with tidy cupboards and a clear garage all improve the presentation of your home tremendously, thereby increasing its saleability and possibly its price.

The reduced volume should also bring down your removal costs. You can bring these down further by considering if there are any bulky pieces of furniture that you are thinking of having restored. For example, your current sofa might not look right in your next home unless it is recovered. So, if you are moving locally, why not ask the upholsterer to collect the sofa a couple of weeks before moving day and deliver it, re-upholstered, to your new one?

Do make sure that you plan where larger items are going in advance. It is easy for the removers to put something like a piano in the right room, but difficult for you to move it elsewhere after they have left. As well as making sure that a piece fits in a certain place, do also find out if the access to that place is easy enough.

Finally, direct the removers to pack things you will need on the day such as children s beds, kitchen and bathroom accessories, clothes, food and work-related items last so they will be the first things to be unloaded at the other end.

Remember - planning is the key to a stress-free move!

BY IAIN DOOLEY

CONTRARY to the old saying, growing up appears to be anything but a hard thing to do in the car business.

This trend is most obvious in the supermini sector, where once small, feature-poor cars have been transformed into mature and capable all-rounders.

Of all the usual suspects to have experienced this transformation, Ford's Fiesta has surfaced with its engaging driving dynamics and sharp looks intact.

In its defence, this latest generation small Ford was fortunate to have been engineered right first time. Blessed with sophisticated ride qualities and a cabin designed and built to emulate the high class ambience of the Focus and Mondeo, it had a clear advantage from birth.

Come refresh time and Ford's designers clearly took the plunge and went with the bold option, as the revised car sports a wide, dominant grille that mirrors some of its maker's more glamorous North American offerings.

Inside, the Fiesta cabin remains largely as before and it's changes to the centre console that are likely to generate the most headlines.

In a bid to continually drive down

Fact File

Ford Fiesta 1.0 Zetec Ecoboost 3dr

£13,645 on the road

ENGINE: 1.0-litre petrol unit developing 100bhp
TRANSMISSION: 5-speed manual driving front wheels
PERFORMANCE: Max speed 112mph, 0-62mph 11.2s
ECONOMY: 65.7mpg
CO<sup>2</sup> RATING: 99g/km emissions and fuel consumption, small capacity three-cylinder petrol engines are starting to gain traction in the marketplace. Ford's decision to install its first effort in the larger Focus resulted in heaps of critical acclaim and proof that the 'small engine-big car' combination works without any significant compromises.

That engine has finally found its way into the Fiesta. Predictably the 125 horsepower unit delivers a useful slug of power and proves refined at speed.

More interesting is the 100 horsepower version - the obvious question is whether sacrificing 25 horsepower in the name of economy and asking price results in a poorer driving and ownership experience.

The simple answer is no.

For all the Fiesta's upmarket cabin ambience and big-car equipment, it remains an obvious choice for urban motoring with the occasional longer run thrown in for good measure.

In five-speed manual gearbox trim, this Fiesta boasts a well-judged set of ratios to deal with all types of urban motoring. Brisk acceleration is easily achieved without any major effort from the driver or engine, while the latter's off-beat three-pot thrum is surprisingly endearing and only really becomes audibly vocal when pushed hard.

Still, the upsides easily outweigh any negative experiences; with a lightweight engine under its bonnet the Fiesta changes direction with ease, the fast-acting turbo motor ensures a quick response at the urban traffic light Grand Prix while the on paper economy and emissions figures should please the bank manager if not the tax man.

For keen drivers, Ford's ability to make a good car better should be applauded but the revised Fiesta's also been updated to please buyers seeking a rewarding ownership experience.

Safety kit from the Focus has trickled down to the Fiesta, with Ford's low speed auto brake function helping drivers react quicker to, say, a pedestrian or car pulling out in front or stopping suddenly.

Creature comforts that you'd find on larger cars - parking sensors, heated mirrors - are also available depending on the trim level. An improved multimedia package is also offered, which boasts a tighter integration with your mobile phone and a more intuitive user interface. Adding to its appeal is an SOS function, which is activated after an accident and alerts the local authorities.

The cosmetic enhancements have allowed the Fiesta to regain ground lost to more recent, youthful-looking rivals and the inclusion of the trick creature comforts should boost its appeal among feature-hungry buyers.

In three-door trim it's big enough to double as a family car if you're brood is on the small side, but the Fiesta never feels bloated when driven with enthusiasm.

Overall, then, the Fiesta's slew of revisions have done much to help maintain its lofty position in the marketplace.

100% more informed
30% more forests

No wonder
you love
paper

Did you know that forests in Europe, which provide wood for making into paper and many other widely used materials, are 30% larger than in 1950? In fact they're increasing by 1.5 million football pitches every year.*

If you love reading your favourite newspaper, isn't it good to know that it's made from natural and renewable wood.

Two Sides is an industry initiative to promote the responsible use of print and paper as a uniquely powerful and natural communications medium.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

End of the road? Get over it and move on with your local ATF:

B & T Motor Salvage

We offer free collection, on the same day if necessary, using our own recovery vehicles and issue a Certificate of Destruction from the Department of Vehicle Licensing Authority via our direct link to their website. Payment per vehicle negotiable.

Mia shows her promise in national champs

CROSS COUNTRY

ST Nicholas pupil Mia Hiron produced her finest race to date when she achieved an excellent 21st spot in the ISA (Independent Schools Association) National Cross Country Championships.

The 11-year-old was competing against girls one or two years older than her in U-14 70-strong field at the 2.5km race at Princethorpe College in Rugby, Warwickshire.

Hirons, who was representing East Anglia was very pleased with her run as she exceeded her coaches expectation of a place in the top 40.

Alex Hill from Old Harlow also won a gold medal and claimed a silver at the Eastern Counties Championships earlier in the month.

Competing for Herts Phoenix AC, Hill came first in the 800m gold and second in the 400m silver.

Three wins for Rams

HARLOW U-14s showed strong form as they triumphed 36-17 away against Chingford.

Sunday's friendly saw James Napier (2), Mason Sharp (2) and Connor Bates score the tries for Harlow.

Jack Snell kicked four conversions and a penalty for the visitors.

It was Harlow's fifth win in a row and was a good performance as the two teams were closely matched for most of the game.

Harlow U-16 have been in good form recently.

But they met more than their match when they lost 34-0 at home to Sudbury who proved more clinical.

Sudbury's defence was excellent and the ball won by Harlow was too slow to threaten the Suffolk side.

Other matches saw Harlow U-15 beat Clacton u15 28-8 and Harlow U-17 beat Chingford 58-22.

cial invitation. In the U-12 rope competition Millie Smith and Amelia Anastasi came first and second to claim gold and silver respectively. Team-mate Emma Oakes (10) finished in a creditable fifth spot. Gemma Aves (9) secured first place in the U-10 hoop event to win gold. Lucy Taylor (9), Liberty Miller (7) and Phillipah Museva (8) finished fifth, eighth and ninth respectively in this category. Harlow's fourth medal was gained by Erin Gallagher finishing second in the U-12 ribbon event. Erin was closely followed in fourth spot by Kate Ashman (15). Team-mate Paige McArdell (13) came 12th in the over-12 ribbon event. In the U-8 duet free event, the sisters Emma and Yurika Lomo finished fifth.

Revenge for Hawks as Cougars tamed

REVENGE was gained by Harlow Hawks as they thrashed Cambridge Cougars in Herts League division one.

Cougars had given Hawks a beating earlier in the season and the two teams met again on Friday.

Hawks started the better of the two teams as they played with good energy on both ends of the floor.

Player coach Shab Niaz, pictured right, was a dab hand yet again.

He drained three three-pointers and hit three from three from the free throw line for 12 points in the first quarter.

Nick Moss found Lee Jones who out-ran the entire Cougars team for an easy score.

The home side were playing with confidence and they led 21-13 going into the second quarter.

This saw the Hawks shift up another gear adding a phenomenal 33 points.

The Hawks upped the tempo of the game and displayed deadly accurate shooting.

Dave Spashett stepped off the bench and continued to be a threat.

He knocked down a pair of three-pointers.

Stuart Burgess, Russ Allan and Rimantas Norkeliunas provided the interior defence.

They mopped up all the defensive rebounds and forced Cougars into taking tough shots.

The Hawks continued to play at a frantic pace, which the Cambridgeshire side just could not deal with. The home side led 54-32 at half-time. The third quarter has been somewhat of a problem for the Hawks but was not so this time. Shab Niaz opened up with a pair of long-range bombs.

DIVISION ONE

Moss began to attack the basket. This resulted in either scores or trips to the free throw line.

Spashett again stepped off the bench and knocked down his shots, providing instant offensive.

It was the Hawks' work on the defensive end in this period which really did the damage, as the Cougars tried desperately to get themselves back in the contest.

But the home side's effort shut the door, only allowing them nine points in the period.

Hawks headed into the final quarter 76-41 in the lead.

It would have been easy to take their foot off the gas.

But the hosts displayed a hunger and desire, scoring 36 points.

Attacks came from everywhere, through Moss and Allan from the wings.

Niaz and Spashett continued to knock down three pointers as the home side delivered the knock out blow.

Hawks went on to win by a comfortable margin of 45 points.

The win gives Harlow a chance to take the last play-off spot.

Hawks are at home this Friday and then have three away games. HARLOW HAWKS: S. Niaz (29pts), N. Moss (27), Spashett (17), Norkeliunas (16), Allan (9), Lenihan (6), Burgess (4), Jones (2), Svedas (2).

Penguins the county cream at Essex Champs

Home advantage is key for Loughtons

A RE-JIGGED Harlow Ladies side went ahead before they went down 2-1 at Old Loughtonians III in the premier division of the Essex Women's League.

The visitors included two players suffering from illness and jet-lag for Saturday's clash.

Harlow struggled with the conditions but still went ahead after 22 minutes.

Harlow were denied a second goal after Georgina Smith's sweep from a short corner was declared as a hit.

Just before the break, the hosts equalised as a result of Harlow's unfamiliarity with the pitch.

The second half was mainly a midfield battle and there were few chances.

Loughtonians bagged the winner on 56 minutes when they breached the dogged Harlow defence.

Other result: East Men's Hockey League div 4SE: East London II 9, Harlow 0.

Old Albanian are just too good

A COMBINED Harlow and Bishop's Stortford girls U-15 rugby team lost 31-19 at Old Albanian in a London & South East League match on Sunday.

The competitive nine-a-side game saw the visitors virtually out of contention after the mid-Herts side scored four tries.

Harlow and Stortford, without their key player Megan Evans (fly-half), then got going and finished strongly.

Prop Aimee Jones (Harlow) scored two tries.

The other touchdown came from Stortford's wing Molly Hobday.

Hooker Katie Boggas (Harlow) also kicked two conversions.

The combined Stortford and Harlow coach John Boyle said: "We were overwhelmed a bit in the first half."

He added: "However, we came back well in the second half."

"We did miss Megan as she is a big player for us."

Shoes fit final bill to avenge double anguish

HARLOW LINK 0 THREE SHOES 4 HARLOW AND DISTRICT FOOTBALL LEAGUE, DIVISION FOUR CUP FINAL

THREE Shoes put to bed the disappointment of last season's double cup final heart-break with a solid performance to win the Division Four Cup final, writes PAUL GROVES.

The team went into the game unbeaten in the league this season and the confidence was clear to see from the outset.

Three Shoes had the first real opportunity on four minutes when James Jennings free-kick was headed wide by Carl Owen.

On 12 minutes, Harlow Link's Mitch Barron headed narrowly wide from a cross by Jim Macleay.

A Harlow Link corner was almost turned into his own net by Josh Jones, and on 28 minutes Michael Young saved well in a one on one with Links Macleay.

THREE SHOES: The Division Four Cup final winners

Three Shoes took the lead on 34 minutes, as James Jennings' pass caused confusion between the Link keeper Ronnie Forsyth and Daniel Breeds, which allowed Scott Darby to nip in and round the keeper before slotting the ball into an empty goal.

On 43 minutes, Three Shoes thought they had doubled their lead only for Charlie Jennings to see his goal disallowed for offside.

The second half started with Young pulling off a number of saves to deny Scott Breeds, Lee Exley and Lance Ingle.

On 67 minutes Three Shoes made it 2-0 when Jack Wookey's pass found Carl Owen and his shot was saved only for the rebound to fall to Darby to knock home number two.

Three Shoes had another goal disallowed when James Jennings' free-kick hit the wall, but he managed at the second attempt to get in a good cross for Charlie Jennings to head in, but his effort was ruled offside for a second time.

It was only a matter of time for number three when Charlie Jennings finally got his goal, as Darby's goal-bound effort was deflected in on 78 minutes.

Both teams continued to press for openings and it was in stoppage time when Darby completed his hat-trick, knocking in at close range to give Three Shoes a comfortable 4-0 win.

Rams run riot for massive win against East London

HARLOW 82, EAST LONDON 10 RFU LONDON & SE, DIVISION THREE NORTH EAST

THERE was only one side in it as Harlow hammered basement side East London at home.

London have not won a game all season and although they never gave up in Saturday's clash at Ram Gorse, the Rams were simply too strong for them.

They exploited a dry pitch and scored 12 tries which came from the backs and forwards.

Coach Lee Harron said: "To be fair they were not great and I felt that we would win well."

"The main thing was the performance and I got that. The team performance was solid."

Eleven tries were converted by fly-half Dan Smith and several of them were from out close to the touchline.

The Rams, without regular captain Shaun Roberts (chest injury), went ahead within the first five minutes.

Good handling preceded wing Alistair Feasey accelerating through the defence to touch down for a try that was converted.

Number eight Kain Claridge touched down from an 11th-minute forwards move before Feasey's pace earned him a second try on 20 minutes.

Smith missed his sole conversion and Harlow led 19-0.

Four minutes later, good forwards ball provided the foundation for Harlow's other speedy winger Will Grimley to beat the visitors' defence for a try.

Smith then went on a solo run to score Harlow's fifth try on 29 minutes.

The first-half scoring was completed in the 39th minute.

Claridge produced a replica of his first touchdown and Harlow led 40-0 at half-time.

Playing with the slope after the break, East London were almost immediately on to the attack from the kick-off, taking play deep into the Harlow 22.

East London pressure preceded an unconverted touchdown for them.

Harlow struck back almost immediately.

Full-back Rob Mackie burst through to touch down for what was to be the first of his four tries.

The next two Harlow tries came from the forwards.

Jonathan Unwin touched down from a line-out before substitute Dominic Lane also scored.

Harlow now led 61-5.

They moved the ball freely with Mackie running in another three tries as he came into the line to devastating effect.

Harron added: "When we got far ahead we just did not try to play sevens rugby."

"We stuck to the task well and Dan Smith kicked very well."

"Even when we got our bonus point we stuck to our discipline well."

ALL EYES ON THE BALL: Harlow Town's Joakim Ehui against Heybridge Swifts on Saturday

Hawks can't bridge the gap against play-off chasers

THE Hawks made it three games without victory after a 2-0 home defeat to play-off hopefuls Heybridge Swifts in a tough fixture at Barrows Farm.

Hawks gave a debut at right-back to new signing Jack Dekanski, while keeper James Hasell - who has returned to the club - was named on the bench.

Ryohei Tamai was in goal, replacing the banned Bertrand Bossu.

The first real shot in anger came from Harlow's Joe O'Donoghue, whose half volley from 20 yards was blocked well by a Heybridge defender, after good work by left winger Joakim Ehui.

A neat through ball was finished with a delicate lob over the keeper from Harlow midfielder Clark Akers, only to see the offside flag thwart his celebrations.

Heybridge went close when Luke Callander's shot was saved by Tamai.

HARLOW TN 0, HEYBRIDGE SWIFTS 2 RYMAN, DIV ONE NORTH

SAM WALKER

As the half came to a close, Heybridge had a penalty shout turned down as it remained goalless.

Heybridge hit two goals in the space of 10 minutes after the break.

The first came after good work down the left again by Solomon Ofori, whose low cross was finished well by Ben Newson.

The away side made it 2-0 from a corner when an aerial misjudgement by Tamai was capitalised on by Heybridge's former Bishop's Stortford centre-half Grant Cooper, who nodded in at the back post.

For the final 20 minutes, Harlow looked to press on but failed to get any real efforts on goal to trouble the Heybridge keeper and looked under threat from the corner.

Hawks assistant manager Paul West-Hook told the Star: "We started the game slowly and let them take charge a bit but managed to get back into it and made it an even first half.

"A couple of errors in the second half has cost us in the end, with our debutant right-back [Dekanski] possibly at fault for the first goal, and the keeper's call meaning our defenders have switched off for the second.

"I think their first goal made us more pro-active but we had no one in the box when we got our crosses in. We've competed well against two top six sides this week and it should give us confidence for our games next week."

HARLOW TN: Tamai, Dekanski (Hart 62), Toonga, Akande, D. Brown, Muguo, O'Donoghue, Akers, Asamoah (Das 77) Wixson, Ehui. Subs: Hasell, B. Brown, Butler.

Bossu's au revoir as he quits Hawks

TILBURY 1, HARLOW TN 0 RYMAN, DIV ONE NORTH

FRENCHMAN Bertrand Bossu has left Harlow Town to take up a new job in his home country and former Hawks guardian James Hasell will take over.

Number two keeper Ryohei Tamai also goes early next month.

Former Aberdeen custodian Bossu (32), pictured right, signed for Harlow Town early last season, however his Hawks' reign had been littered by bad errors as well as excellent saves.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman said: "Bert has a good job in France. Jimmy has only played Sunday mornings recently but he is a good keeper."

"Ryohei cannot renew his visa and is going back to Japan. We will be looking for another keeper."

Former Leyton Orient defender Jack Dekanski will not feature again for Harlow this season after playing just ONE game!

Meanwhile, the introduction of former Spurs youth team player and left-sided footballer Danny Day has been delayed.

Chapman explained: "Jack had been off for a month and was not fit enough [on Saturday] and we will look again in pre-season."

"Whyteleaf would not release Danny on Saturday as one of their players was in a car crash and we now have to put in a seven-day approach."

Harlow will hope to end their losing run at Brentwood Town this Saturday after going down to a third successive defeat when they lost at Tilbury on Tuesday.

With Clarke Akers and Ben Brown ruled out by illness, Donny Barnard was called up as an emergency substitute.

A goalless first half saw Harlow come closest to scoring when a Piers Wixon shot hit a post.

Chapman said: "We were the better team in the first half and nobody could have complained if we had been 2-0 or 3-0 up at half-time."

The sole goal came on 74 minutes when Tom Wright scored directly from a corner, but Chapman claimed it should not have been allowed.

Chapman said: "Ben Hart and Johnny Butler were fouled at the near post and the linesman's flag went up [but he was over-ruled]."

"The officials are not good enough and it is affecting not just us."

He added: "We had not been as good as we were in the first half but we had been in no real danger."

In a last throw of the dice, Bossu came on as a late substitute up front but was booked for a foul. HARLOW TN: Tamai, Butler, Akande, Toonga, D Brown, Muguo, Hart (Bossu 80), Asamoah (Das 75), Wixon, Ehiu, O'Donoghue. Sub not used: Barnard.

Steel nets Brooklyn call-up for US tour

BASKETBALL player Josh Steel, pictured above, has taken a big leap forward in the sport.

Steel (16), of The Hoo in Harlow, has been picked for a Jordan Brand Classic International Tour in Brooklyn, New York on April 13.

He was one of just 10 players picked from a training group of 40 top U-16 players from Europe that took part in a three-day course in Barcelona that ended on Sunday.

Steel said: "I was very surprised to get the nod and I am looking forward to it. I did not expect it at all."

"I am very excited as I have never been to America before."

The first and second day of the basketball camp in Barcelona focused on strength and conditioning training sessions as well as skills instruction with star coaches from both America and Europe.

The final day of the camp was highlighted by an all-star game featuring the top 20 players, as chosen by the coaches.

Steel represented England Under-16s when he was a year younger than his team-mates at least year's Division A European Championships.

He was also in Great Britain's bronze medal winning team at the Australian Youth Olympic Festival in January.

England fours triumph for Tye Green team

A TEAM from Harlow's Tye Green Indoor Bowls Club triumphed in the England Over-60s Fours competition at Melton Mowbray.

The side, which consisted of Mo Crocker, Harry Wood, Roy Buckner and John Anderson, edged out some of the top clubs in England over two days of action.

Tye Green defeated Lincolnshire-based Stamford in a thrilling final.

The match was tied at 15-15 heading into the final end, but the Bush Fair club triumphed 18-15.

"We were chuffed to bits. It was a really good couple of days," said Anderson (62), who has been a member of Tye Green since 1983.

The Harlow team had defeated Nottingham IBC in the first round. They edged this match 21-19 after an extra end.

They then took on Westcliff-based Essex County IBC in the quarter-final in a gripping Essex derby.

This match was even closer, before Tye Green came through by a single shot (14-13).

"We beat them by one – it was a really close game," beamed Anderson.

Tye Green returned the next day and beat Portsmouth-based Victory IBC 29-20.

The Harlow club gained a rare eight on the second end. "That's unheard of at this level. They pegged us all the way back but in the end we won by seven or eight shots," added Anderson. "That put us into the final."

Although the players have fared well in another national trophy, the Denny Plate, this was the biggest win of their careers.

Earlier, Tye Green came through the initial qualifying section after winning a five-club tournament involving Cheshunt, Barking, Chigwell and Havering.

In the next stage they played the Middlesex regional champions, Mansfield, and winning this meant they progressed to the national finals tournament which involved 16 teams.
